

Email from Ben Koons, Architect for the proposed change to 89 Snake Hill Rd

Tom,

Here is the site plan that shows the proposed alignment with the existing trail cutting through the private property in red and the proposed alignment in blue. The access point will be essentially the same location from Snake Hill Rd, possibly moving 10' or so to avoid the property corner. The path realignment is a relatively minor change and will reconnect with the existing trail in several hundred feet. Our hope is to resolve this issue before construction commences so access to the trail system will not be disrupted.
